Letter of Hon T. L. Clingman to his FELLOW-CITIZENS: The Hon Edwin G. Reade, ose of my colleagues, some time since published a letter which seemed chiefly intended as a reply to my address to you dated March 16, 1856. This publication consisted chiefly of extracts from writings and speeches of mine, and of cri-icisms

Mr. Reade, in the next place, refers to my statecolleague should be ignorant of the well-known fact that, in Great Britain, as well as in most of people of London were about to hold a meeting annexation of Texas. to complain of the oppression valer which they suffered, the government emplayed as many as suthorities at Boston, and prevented the aboliclopists from rescuing the runaway negro Burns.

It was because these people upheld the constitution an laws against the native abolitionists that my colleague's know-nothing party, when it came into power in Massachusetts, disbanded the military companies composed of foreigners, and refused to slight them the privilege of supporting the government of their adopted country. The tact is undeniable that gince the anti-slavery movement has become so formidable, the great body of foreigners in the North have acted with the friends of the constitution and of the South against the native abolitionists. Is it not, therefore, strange that Mr. Reade, a citizen of a sonthern State, should advise his constituents to join entirely companies composed of foreigners, and refused to slight them the privilege of supporting the government the matter privilege of supporting the government that place the anti-slavery

body of foreigners in the North have acted with
the friends of the constitution and of the South
against the native abolitionists. Is it not, therefore, strange that Mr. Reade, a citizen of a sonthern State, should advise his constituents to join the like, whose birth was on our own soil. My colleague also argued that, to put down party. This is a singular ramedy, when it is remembered that the great majority of this party.

The adoption of such a candidate shows the coatrel, more than nineteen-twentieths are anti-Banks, who was an avowed free-soiler and about the finance. That small fragment of the American or Know-Kothing party of the North with which he professes to act, and which pominated Mr. Fillmore, is in a minority in expression of the feet States. If, therefore, you should follow this advice and join his party, you will either go into an organization which is thoroughly abolitionized or you must get with a small squad of men who are in the minority everywhere, and who are not able to bring to rour aid one Contact party, purified by losing its free-soil element, and strengthened by the accession of patriotic and intelligent whigs, and all the anti-riotic and intelligent whigs, and will, therefore, leave those allies in fact, if not in intention, to manocuve at well as they can to defeat, or at least damage, the democratic candidates.

The contest, then, is really between the democratic party, purified by losing its free-soil elements, and strengthened by the accession of patriotic and intelligent which is therefore, leave those allies in fact, if not in intention, to manocuve at well as they can to defeat, or at least damage, the democratic candidates. who are not able to bring to rour aid one Con- ately designated black republican. But, in all sincerity, I would be more manly for you to vote directly for their candidate. If you would not see through the game credit for reany believing that his candidate has some chance of success. But, in all sincerity, I would be present if the position of Mr. React should have had an entire this pot strange that a gentleman in the position of Mr. React should not know that the elections of members of Congress in the North took place two years ago, or in 1854, and last year, in 1855? You would at least, by a few months as thoma, he would at least, by a few months as bugged and cheated.

Corwic sad Hall hoth, during their congressional course, showed themselves, in their speeches and votes, showed themselves, in their speeches and votes, to be not only freesoilers, as Wilmot proviso men, but thoroughly anti-slavery in all respects, neither of them, to my knowledge, having differed with the abolitionists on any practical question. Mr. Webster himself had repeatedly voted for the Wilmot proviso, and on one occasion claimed the authorship of that principle, and said that Wilmot had "stolen his thunder." In his speech of the 7th of March, 1850, which was regarded as conciliatory is its tone, he said that he garded as conciliatory in its tone, he said that he would not vote to put the Wilmot provise on the Mexican territory, because in that territory slavery was already excluded by the existing law, and the proviso was unnecessary. In making this tatament, I do not wish to detract from the general liberality of Mr. Websters casion. As to Mr. Fillmore's oppointments in the North to fereign missions, and other high

Mr. Fillmore ought to be thus stated: Ceneral Pierce appointed a few men who had been free-soilers to inferior offices, after they had renounced their former views, and professed conservative national sentiments, while Mr. Fillmore appointed from the North to all effices, high and low, none but free-soilers, without requiring them to renounce any previous opinions.

If, therefore, Mr. Reade is opposed to Pierce for the reason stated by him, he ought, if consiseent, to oppose Fillmore with ten times as much zeal. I regret to be compelled to go into this matter, because Mr. Fillmore, when President, in accordance with his oath of office, showed himself willing to execute the laws, as well for the benefit of the South as the North, and was in other respects conservative in his administration. But, gentlemen, waiving further notice of Mr. Reade's letter, the principal points of which I have sufficiently examined, let us turn our attention to the presidential candidates before the country.

His opponents are charging him with having held certain erroneous opinions forty years ago, in his youth. With as much fairness it might Mr. Reade, in the next place, refers to my statement, that the abolition movement in this country has received its main strength from the supporting instead of opposing the election of when a candidate for Congress, he declared himbighest office in the gift of the American people, and the highest position of political distinction port given it by the British government and a portion of its aristocracy, and adopts the statement as true. Respectfully,
T. L. CLINGMAN. CITY OF WASHINGTON, June 20, 1856.

We can hardly chronicle the numerous accessions to the Democratic party from the ranks o the old-line Whigs. In every State of the Union there are more or less of the old Clay and Web ster "guard" which is attaching itself to our or-ganization. A Boston correspondent of the New York Day Book thus writes about the condition of things in Massachusetts. He says:

On the other hand, Choate and the other great On the other hand, Choate and the other great men of the old Whig party stand firm. They will have nothing to do with any party that "does not carry the flag and keep step to the music of the Union." Choate is the central figure of a group of noble patriots who mean to stand by Buchanan. Nearly all the true Webster men of this city and State will vote for the Cincinnati nominations. I do not know what Mr. Winthren casion. As to Mr. Fillmore's oppointments in the North to foreign missions, and other high stations, they were in every instance, as far as I know, made from the ranks of the freesoilers or Wilmot-proviso men. If he ever did make an appointment in a free State to any office of a person who had shown himself willing that the common territories of the Union should be open to Sonthern men and their slave property as well as to Northern ones, I do not know it, and have no reason to belive it. Nor did Mr. Fillmore, in making these appointments, require the individuals to renounce their former views.

This task accomplished, a night cap appears, per-haps edged with plain muslin or perhaps with heavy lace, which hides all save her own sweet countenance. As soon as she ties the string, pro-bably she takes a peep into the glass, and half blushes at what she sees. The light is out—her fair form presses the coach—and like a dear, innocent, lovely creature, us she is, she falls gently into sleep with a sweet smile on her still sweeter face. A man, of course, under the same circumstances, acts quite defferently. Every movement stances, acts quite denorently. Every movement in his chamber indicates the coarse round mould of his sullen nature. When all is ready, he snuffs out the candle with his fingers, like a cannibal, and then jumps into bed like a savage. For a few moments he thinks of all the pecadilloes he may have committed during the day—vows a vow to amend soon, groans, turns over, stretches himself, and then all is silence save the heavy Bank Troubles. Our readers will remember that the Legisla ture, during the past winter, passed a charter for the "People's Bank," at Bowling Green, with a capital of $250,000. It was so restricted and hedged round with safe-guards, that many even of the Democratic members voted for it, desiring to see the experiment tried as to whether a Bank, so cautiously restricted, could prove money-making to its stockholders. Its principel opposition, indeed, was from the old Banks of the State, and especially from the old Bank at Bowling Green. The friends of that delightful old monopoly were bitter in their hostility to the new Bank, and exerted all their powerful infinence to defeat the passage of the Charler.

In spite of all their management, however, the Charter passed; and having failed to destroy it, they determined to rule it to their own uses .-With this purpose in view, they privately got up lists of subscribers to the stock to an amount sufficient to, take into their own keeping the control of the Bank, and make it a catspaw to their mammoth shaving machine.

But the best laid schemes of mice and men, even of Bank men, do not always work smoothly. The true friends of the Bank-those who had originated it, who had procured the passage of the Charter, and struggled for its success-got wind of the intended trick of the old bnukers, and prepared themselves accordingly.

On the 2d of June, nine out of eleven of the Commissioners met in Bowling Green for the parpose of opening the books for subscriptions of stock, and organized by electing Major James T. Donaldson Chairman, and Charles McKinney Secretary. The following resolution was then unanimously adopted:

Resolved. That the books for subscriptions to the capital stock of the People's Bank of Ken shall be kept open until two thousand five hundred shares (being the full amount of the capital of said Bauk) shall be received and entered by the Secretary; provided it does not require more than thirty days. So soon as that number of shares shall be thus entered, the books shall be closed, and no offers to anhacribe stock after that shall be entered by the Com-

After this settlement of preliminaries, it was proclaimed from the door that the Books were open to receive subscriptions.

Mr. E. D Payne then stepped forward and enbecribed for $10.000 of stock, and paid down the $5 upon each share as required by the Charter. He also proceeded to subscribe for stock for various in lividuals, who had authorized him by power of Attorney to act for them.

White this was going ou, the room was rapidly filled with citizens. Amongst others, four Directors of the old Bank, with one of its Attorneys at their head, presented themselves at the Sertet ri's table, and demanded to have the names of certain persons entered as subscribers for stock. One of them held a list of names in his hand, and each of toda carried a bag of " id Hank goin, to jay the instalment of $5 per

They were nois to begin; and the Chairman of the shard informed to m that as soon as Mr. Parne was intough they should be attended to P , or and on sutering the subsemptions which be added requested to eater by various furmers, and a Ord B ak m n grew imparient .-He had aread car rea $100 000. On he went to $150,600, wh n .h. old hunkers grew red in the face, then indegment, sweated protosely, and demanded his suchocity for his subscriptions .-Recaimly exhibited a riwer of Attorney from each man for waom he was stock, and the Secrelaty went on entering his stock. By this time his subscriptions reassed $200,000, when the old bunkers became furious. They saw they were gone-that the friends of the Bank had foiled them-and immediately a storm was raised which assumed the attitude of a mob, and curses and threatened violence were the order of the day.

The gallant old Chairman, however, was firm and unbending. Payne's shares having all been entered, amounting to the whole stock of the Messrs. Fillmore and Fremont. No such thing. But it did not end here. A public meeting was called-an "indignation" meeting-made up of Bank officers, Bank Directors, Bank debtore, Bank Attorneys, and Bank tosdies-who fulminated in flatuleut speeches, passed mobocratic resolutions, and made themselves generally ridiculous. Amongst others in the meeting, were four of the Commissioners of the new Bank, who entered their solemn protest, in bad English, have given above-although one of them had writ- Fremont, by a grand fusion at the eleventh hour. ten it and offered it, another of them had seconded it, and all of them had voted for it.

Let reform be your watchword, energy to the honest impulse of their hearts, by resolu-tions sustaining the new Bank, and pledging staff. themselves to stand by it, and aid and support it against the grasping selfishness and moneyed despotism of the Bowling Green clique.

We rejoice that the Peoples' Bank is in the bands of its friends—that it has been preserved from the disastrous touch of the old Bank clique and that its friends have gloriously triumphed over the many vile influences which were combined to prostrate them. Were we a member of the Board of Directors, we should give our vote for N sjor Donalson for President of the Bank —

'In reviewing the humble part, which I have taken in public, during a period not now short, there is nothing which I can review with more pleasure than the course I have pursued on the subject of slavery. When I first came into the Senate I found the abolition excitement much pre violent than it is at present. The mails were then loaded with pictorial representations rulated to arouse the passions of the slave and excite him to vengeance. The danger of servile insurrection was imminent. Those engaged in the agitation believed they were doing God service Honest fanaticism, in the history of our race, has done as much evil and shed as much human blood as any other cause. The agitation threatened the existence of the Union. It could not by supposed that fathers and mothers who went to bed trembling at night lest their man-sions might be involved in flames before the morning, and all the horrors of servile insurrection might be their fate, would long cling to s

Union with a people which encouraged such en-ormities. Self-preservation is the first law of nature, and above all other laws. "Snrrounded by these circumstances, I took my stand on this question, from which I have never since departed. Under the constitution, the Southern States have rights guarantied to them, and those rights I determined to maintain, come weal, come woe. I determined that I would never risk the blessings of this glorious confed eracy, with all the benefits it holds out, not only to ourselves, but to the whole human race, for the sake of an unavailing philanthropy. The constitutional rights of the South, under our constitutional compact, are as much entitled to pro-tection as those of any other portion of the Freemont, the recreant South Carolinian with abolition principles is fairly in the field, the creature of the fusion of the Black Republican and "North American" (Know Nothing) conventions, although they have a double-headed Vice-Presidential ticket, vlz: Dayton, of New Jersey and Ex-Governor Johnston, of Pennsylvania. This fusion of treasonable disunionists is based upon a common animosity to slavery and Democracy and a common thirst after the spoils. The whole anti-slavery and Know Nothing opposition at the North are thus rallied against the national Democratic party, the Constitution and the Union. In seeking to accomplish the success of ultra Abolitionism and the defeat of the great Democracy, the wire-workers rely confidently upon the aid of Mr. Fillmore and his Southern Know Nothing adherents. The New York Herald now so rampant for Fremont, let the cat out of the bag some time since as follows:

The triumphs of the combined opposition forces under General Harrison and General Taylor, and otherwise inglorious weakness of the old Whig party in a single-handed fight against the solid Democracy, suggest the true policy of the opposition forces in the present campaign. Mr. Fillmore accepts, on broad national grounds, the Philadelphia Know Nothing nomination. He is a popular man in the South, and with anything like an ordinary effort on the part of his friends. he ought, at least, to carry the States of Delaware Maryland, Kentucky, Tennessee and North Car-olina. If he can so this, or anything near it, the opposition in the North can afford the loss of Pennsylvania and two or three other smaller States, and still be able to leave Mr. snchanan in a minority of the electoral and popular vote of the country. In this event the election would, of course, go up to the House of Repre-sentatives at Washington where the opposition, being in a heavy majority, would undoubtedly be aule to control the election. Here the infamous policy is boildy avowed using Mr. Fillmore as a decoy-duck to weaken the national Democracy at the Sonth, as to throw the election into the Black Republican Know Nothing House of Representatives! It is the same policy that has been boldly charged upon leading Southern Know Nothings, who, in the in ensity of their latted for the Democracy, 2:30, 2:30. She did not then go at the top of

Besides the mighty demonstration made for the overthrow of Popery and slavery. y Prentice in his squeaking speech of six lines t Lexington, he was also exhibited to a gaping crowd at Cynthiana, and repeated that same eloquent speech which he made at Lexington.—

The Age gives the following account of it—
At ten o'clock, the Pope-fearers repiared to the whistle screamed, the gun exploded, the band tooted, and, lo! George D. Prentice was in our He was greeted in various and sundry are you, old feller?" "Ohl my Gige, you're a whale!" "What'll you drink?" &c., &c. The motley crowd, composed of small boys, consumptive niggers, and red-nosed l'ope-fearers, then moved towards town. We don't know in what light Mr. Prentice regarded this model ovation, ut he was evidently most cruelly bored.

After dinner the ratification meeting repaired of the court house. Prentice was called to the stand. The screaming committee were on hand, and their shrill efforts would have done credit to and their shall enters would have done credit to the most intense steam whistles. But they had absorbed too much rough whisky, and they overdid the thing most laughably. Prentice said: "My friends, I thank yon for this most cordial greeting. [Screans.] This is my first visit to your county. [Loud screams.] The arduous duties of my profession confine we for the most duties of my profession confine me for the most of the time at my own home." [Intense and prolonged screams. ]

"We regret to see that the foolish old story ing the institutions of this country against the open and the insidious dangers of both those amazing heresies. Persons who have seen the advanced sheets, give warrant of its ability as a opinion. If Mr. Buchanan were so hard-hearted as to hold to any such opinion respecting the so-cial rights of the producers of wealth—the mighty Industrial classes, who love their country disinterestedly—he is no such fool as to avow it. But bearing upon the question of which it treats .- he never said, or thought, anything of the kind, nor anything that would bear any such construction. Mr. Buchanan is a statesman, and he knows that no nation can be powerful where the cussed by this work; as both Know-Nothingism and Abolitionism have already repeatedly ventured into literature, in defense of their purposes and creeds, and it is time they were met on the state of the people have no more than sixty cents a week on which to live. He is a man of ordinary humanity, we take it for granted, and is not pleased with the sight of human suffering; whether the sight of human suffering; and creeds, and it is time they were met on the and what but suffering could exist in a country where the wages of working men should be less than were those of the poorest labore, of Pagland two hundred years ago. . To represent Mr. Buchanan as having made the remark attributed to him, in the absence of to a state of unparalled papperism, is feolish. A charge into which knavery and folly both enter can never harm the man against whom it is di-rected, in the estimation of an intelligent people. It can injure only those who make it, and those only ought to be injured by it, and those only will be injured by it. We believe Mr. Buchanan would heartly rejoice to know that every working man in the world was earning enough to life comfortably, and to place something aside every week. We helieve, too, that he would be as ready as any man to ho his part towards re-alizing that "good time" that we all hope is to come for the children of toil. It is unfortunate for him that his position in politics is to cause many Democrats to oppose him who can find littie to object to him as a man, but who have no wish to see him assailed anew with the falsehoods that were so rife in 1840, that year of political at it, it seems to be a well written and interesting volume.

Mr. Backer, eyes, which gives him a very peculiar expression, eyes, which gives him a very peculiar expression, eyes, eyes, which gives him a very peculiar expression, eyes, which gives him a very peculiar expression, eyes, has either met with an accident to his neck, or has acquired a very disagreeble habit of jerking his head sucdenly down, as though his cravat was choking him, his shirt-collar tickling him under the ear, or something of the sort. When he squints one eye into a good, sly wink, and ducks his head at the same time he is looking at any of the fair sex, he certainly appears like an "old sinner," and one disposed to forget his years and the gravity of his distinguished posiion before the world. Mr. Breckinridge is decidedly one of the noblest looking men in the State of noble men. He has the eye of an eagle—large, blue and full of expression. His hearing is that of a fearless man, with a front to inspire awe and admiration. Mr. Breckinridge is a young man, and remarkably young looking. He generally wears a frock coat buttoned up closely. His figure is tall and grace-ful, and his whole air full of dignity and repose. The expression of Breckinridge's lower face indicates clearly the firmness and steadiness of his character. There is a fixed appearance about the jaws, as though he had a nail or other hard substance between his teeth—the certain indication of nerve. His manners are frank, plain and cor-dial, and to use a Kentucky expression his heart is in the right place. He will preside over the deliberations of the Senate of the United States as Its prosiding officer, if elected Vice-President, with credit to himself, and with a thorough appreciation of the propriety and dignity due that august body representing the conservative element of our Government,—N O, Delta.

jects of Know Nothingism.

It will not be doubted that Governor Ford, of Ohio, is as reliable a representative of the northern Know Nothing sentiment on the subject of slavery as can be found in the ranks of that party. He was conspicuous in the celebrated June convention which met at New York and nominated Banks and Johnson. His declaration in the latter convention may fairly assumed to represent the views of that body. That southern Know Nothings may learn the real origin and objects of their organization from the lips of one so prominent in the order, we publish below the report of a speech made by Gov. Ford in the New York convention. We copy it from the New York Times of June 21, 1856: "Governor Ford, or Ohio, rose to speak, but was unable to proceed for a moment or two in consequence of a storm of applause which greeted his rising. He was desired to ascend the plat-form, and did so, and then proceeded in an eloquent and most effective strain to connsel con-

Reliious bodies unite in the work of tract distribu tion, to send the Bible to the heathen, to explore pagan lands, and no one thinks of inquiring who in those bodies is a Presbyterian, who an Episcopalian, who a Baptist, or a Methodist. They have come forward with a united purpose, and no man asks about their individual faith. Is it possible that the people of the North cannot unite for the overthrow of that hydra-headed monster Popery and slavery? [Applause.] that we 'can.' [Great applause.] 'will' unite. [Uproarious cheering.] Politicians everywhere who oppose us in this will be compelled before the day of election to give way to the will of the people. [Applause. We have done our duty, so far as the offers of peace and union are concerned. It is true that our advances have been spurned, [applause,] and, instead of being treated like gentlemen, we have been treated like dogs. [Applause.] But, sir, my policy in such cases as this is expressed in the saying which is familiar to you, than "no gentleman will offend me, and no other man can." And now, after I have been with you for a year or more, you will give me leave to say that it has become our duty clare—even if it bring upon us the charge of egotlsm—that the American party claims credit for being the first to effect a union against the aggressions of slavery. [Applause.] Let us inscribe upon our banners, and proclaim it to the enemies of liberty everywhere, that the American party was the first which proclaimed he principles of freedom, [tremendous applause] -the first, anywhere, to hold that it has inalien ble rights, among which are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. The whig party has bidden high for Southern support. The demo-crats have made bids for it. Every other party has bidden for it, till the American par'y sprang That party has said to the South, we can no longer serve you; and it was the first party that ever said this thing. [Applause.] We now come together for purposes of union, and wherever the word union is used, it means that concessions must be made, or no union can be effected. Let us forget the little insults that may be offered by foolish, erring men. [Applause. Governor Ford proceeded to say that he regrette the withdrawal of Mr. Banks, but rejoiced that there was left upon the ticket a Johnston. ARRIVAL OF THE

NEW Your, June 27. The steamer Asia arrived from Liverpool with dates to the 14th inst. There is still much excitement in regard to Americans affairs. The London Times and Morning Post demand the re-call of Mr. Dellas by the United States Govern-on the state of the Union. He vindicated the ment, but it was not generally supposed that he would be dismissed. The cities of Liverpool and Manchester have issued peace addresses to the citizens of Amrica, and the feeling of the people active in favor of peace. The Government however, talks in a hoitile manner. Lords Palmer ton and Clarendon stated in Parliament on Friday that the dismissal of the American mlnister had not been decided. Lord John Russell gave notice of a motion of inquiry into the Intentions of the government, samuch as the feeling of the people was in favor of peace. The steamer Fulton, with Crampton on board.

In the House of Lords on Friday Lord Clarendon said the day before yesterday Mr. Dallas called upon him and read a despatch from Mr. Marcy, in which it was stated that the explanations of the British Government were perfectly satisfactory on the recruiting question. American Government was satisfied that the British Government had given no instructions, and that they had no intention doing so to violate the laws; but so far as related to the proccedings of Crampton and the proceedings of the Consuls, the explanation which had been offered was not sufficiently satisfactory. The American Government had therefore resolved upon sending Crampton his passports and also upon with-drawing the exequatur of the Consuls.

Her Majesty's Government had not yet had an opportunity of arriving at any conclusion as to the course they should adopt, but as soon as they had it should be communicated to Parliament, and the dispatches, a copy of which Mr. Dallas had left with him, should be laid on the table. He thought it his duty also to state that Mr. Dallas had read to him another dispatch, in which the Central American question was treat-

On that subject the American Government considered that there were some parts of the question which might with advantage be made the subject of arbitration between the two governments. Palmerston made substantially the same declaration in the House of Commons.

Air. Balie said, that, as he had given notice of a motion on the entistment question, he wished to know whether the noble Lord would lay on the table the dispatch sent by Mr. Marcy; unless that was done, he should deem it his duty to bring the question up on Monday. Lord Palmerston said the Government desired give all the correspondence that could fairly procured, and the Hon. gentleman might take boice, whether to bring the question on

Mr. Gibson said he understood from the noble Lord that Mr. Dallas had made a communicadent, they feel entirely confident and are cager tral American question. He now wished to know whether, in that communication, an answer was given to the proposal to submit the Central American question to arbitration.

Lord Palmerston and it would require time to enter into a long detail and give explanations upon that point, but he might say the general tenor of the communication was that the United States Government were of opinion that the question would be better settled by direct negonation between the two Governmets. Gibson inquired whether in case a direct negotiation failed, the American Governmen Palmerston replied that there was no refusal of arbitration. D'Isracli expressed a hope that the noble Lord would lay a despatch on the table before the debate took place on Bailie's motion. Palmerston replied that would depend on the nanner in which the Government might reply. The subject was then dropped, New York, June 28.

THIRTY-FOURTH CONGRESS-FIRST SES-

SION. WASHINGTON, June 28.

The Senate is not in session to-day. House-Messrs. Howard and Sherman, of the Investigating Committee, have returned and appeared in their seats. The Honse resumed the consideration of the bill for the admission of Kansas into the Union. Mr. Washburn, Maine, said Mr. Stephens' proposition was a side blow to kill the Kansas bill Mr. Stephens de nied this, expressing the desire that the latter on the state of the Union. He vindicated the Kansas-Nebraska act, and condemned the move-ments of the Northern people to thwart the policy of that measure.

Mr. Stephens said the pending bill admitted on its face that the Topeka constitution was formed against law and order. He was inclined to think the real object of this movement was not so much to get Kansas into the Union, as a free State, as to kindle fires of civil war in the country. Mr. Campbell, of Ohlo, in the course of his reply to Mr. Stephens, said he could prove that Jefferson denied the constitutional power to acquire territory, and could produce the origina manuscript of a letter of Jefferson's, written a few years before his death, in which he not only clude slavery. This letter he intended to have prepare with all possible dispatch for foreign service. Their destination is supposed to be the coast of America. measures of 1850, argning the constitutionality and expediency of excluding slavery from the Territories. Campbell and Stephens repeatedly interrupted each other, for explanations regarding the controverted points on slavery. Mr. Evans was in favor of admining Kansas as soon as practicable, without regard to the number of inhabitants, provided a fair election can be had. He would send Gen. Scott thither, to secure such result. He contended that popular sovereignty was an egregious error, because no people can exercise sovereign power till they acquire com-plete jurisdiction over the soil.

Mr. Morrill contended that the Administration must be held responsible for the agitation, and argued against the extension of slavery into the Mr. Dunn expressing a wish to strike down

If a case of dyspepsia should be neglected, most serious effects may ensue, for it lays the foundation for, is the incipient cause of, and very inequently terminates in consumption I would impress upon the mind that to trifle with this disease, may be to sport with that cason which constitutes man super-emment among animal beings, or to embitter existence by adding a consciousness of folly to the penalty of pain.

This medicine is prepared entirely from vegetable substances; the most delicate stomach can bear it conveniently, and it is given with perfect aftery, in minute does to the most tender minute, its properties being of a strengthening and invigorating nature. It is nearly put upon bottles, with ample directions for use.

The following testimonials from some well known and respectable citizens of Philadelphia, are fully corroborative of the tried efficacy of the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixir.

Philadelphia, March 16, 1833.

Doctor James Williams:—For several years past, I have been liable to attacks of Dyspepsia; but never have I been more distressingly afflicted with its symptoms, than within the last few weeks. Indigestion, nervous irritability, despondency, a sense of weigat in the atomach, and severe pains in the left side, rendering me, for the time being, truly wretched. Fortunately, I was recommended by a friend to rry your Elixit. I did so, and in ress than two weeks, indigestion ceased: pain and, nervous depression left me, and appetite, with mental and bodily health, were fully restored. To me the cure seemed almost mirraculous, and my object in writing to you is—a lope that other persons suffering the miseries of Dyspepsia wir avail themselves of your efficient remedy.

WALLACE, LITHGOW & CO., STOVE, GRATE, COPPER, TIN, SHEET-IRON AND HOLLOW-WARE MANUFACTURERS, No. 536, Northwest corner Main and Third streets Louisville. Ky,

In calling the attention of dealers in our line in this market, we would state that during the last six months our attention has been directed to getting up a large number of new Stove and Grate Patterns, which, added to our already large streks, gives us one of the most extensive and diversified assortments in the western market. Among the number, we would refer to our "Ashiand Kentucklan" Cook Stove, (three sizes out.) These Stoves have great weight of metal, highly finished and elegant in appearance. They combine all the models in the total appearance. They combine all the models in the models in the practical experience has developed.

We would invite dealers to call and examine rest themselves, and we thuk in quality, price, &c., they can be suited. Having cularged our manufacturing department, we can promptly meet all demands. Thankful for the pat ronage which has been so kinkly bestowed upon us, we cure a continuance of it. And the quality of our manufactured work shall be, as heretolore, equal if not superior to the best, and satisfaction given in all casees.
